Memoirs.

Rev. Marvin J. Scott

Was born in Le Roy, New York, May 29, 1832, and died at his residence in Lambertville, Mich., October 25, 1894, in the sixty-third year of his age.

Brother Scott was educated in the public schools and at the Le Roy Seminary. He was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at the age of nineteen, and about that time came to Michigan and taught school, becoming principal of the Romeo High School. He was united in marriage with Miss Loretta Crawford, April 17, 1861, and two children were born to them—a daughter, living in Lambertville, and a son, living in New York. His wife deceased January 31, 1866, and March 26, 1867, he was married to Miss Mary Telling, of Byron, Mich., and two children blessed this union, one daughter dying in early girlhood. Sister Scott and the three surviving children mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and father.

While teaching at Byron Brother Scott yielded to his convictions concerning his call to the ministry, and joined the Detroit Conference on trial in 1868. He was admitted into full connection in 1870, and ordained deacon by Bishop Clark, and ordained elder by Bishop Ames in 1872. His appointments have been as follows: In 1868, Palmyra; 1869-'70, West Milan; 1871, Sand Beach; 1872-'73, Marysville; 1874, Capac; 1875-'76, Brockway; 1877-'78, Adair; 1879-'80, Lambertville; 1881-'82, Henderson; 1883, Freeland. In all these fields he wrought faithfully and well, and his ministry was greatly blessed to those whom he served as pastor. At the conference of 1884 he felt compelled on account of failing health to take a superannuated relation, and was obliged to retain it until his decease.

At Sand Beach he literally "suffered the loss of all things" by fire. Leaving his home to fill his appointments on the first Sabbath after his arrival on the charge, he returned to find that every earthly possession had been swept away by a terrible forest fire, from which he escaped death only by standing in a lake for protection from the flames.

Brother Scott possessed a mind well stored by careful reading and study. As a preacher he was thoughtful and instructive, and his sermons were prepared with great care, being written out in full. His life was deeply spiritual; he seemed to live as in the presence of eternal realities, and those whose privilege it was to come in contact with him recognized the fruits of righteousness clearly manifested in his life and character. With Christian consistency he seemed to say, "Follow me as I follow Christ." He was an inspiration and help to his younger brethren in the ministry. He was sweet spirited and warm hearted, and manifested a true and constant friendship.

Although failing health compelled his retirement from the active work of the ministry, his ardor and love for Christ and his church were unabated. His last words in church were full of counsel and encouragement concerning special revival services just beginning on the charge, and which he expected to participate in and enjoy. An attack of hemorrhage of the lungs a week before his death despoiled the frail casket and released the triumphant spirit. His end, like that of the "perfect man and upright," was full of peace and joy. With his pastor the day before he died he conversed cheerfully, then grasping him warmly by the hand, triumphantly said, "The Lord is my helper, I have no fear; all is well. If I can be of no more service to Christ or to the church and the world I would like to go home," then as if faith was fast ripening into full fruition, he added, "The way is clear; it looks very attractive over there."

After his death the following note was found, written by himself: "As far as I am concerned, if my work is done and I can be of no more service to my friends, were it not for bidding adieu to dear friends I would like to go soon to that better world of which I have preached to others." All who knew Brother Scott bear testimony to his consecrated life and saving influence, and one who was his pastor said, "He was greatly beloved by all the people, a true friend of the pastor, a faithful worker in the Sunday school, and an inspiration in the class and prayer-room."

"The memory of the just is blessed."

Rev. Thomas Seelye,

Son of Cornelius and Rachel Seelye, was born in Westmoreland, Oneida county, New York, February 3d, 1822, and was translated from his earthly home in Ann Arbor, Mich., January 3d, 1895, being nearly seventy-three years of age.

He was a frail child, with but little prospects of reaching maturity, yet he attained an apparent robustness and vigor that not only enabled him to endure the hardship and labor incident upon the life of a pioneer Methodist preacher, but carried him beyond his three-score and ten. His boyhood was spent in the State of Ohio, where his parents had removed when he was about a year old. He began, when quite young, a life of prayer and reading the scriptures, and was soundly converted at the age of fifteen; at nineteen received his call to the gospel ministry, and coming to Michigan before his majority, he began his itinerant career in the early part of 1843 by serving as a supply on the Dundee circuit. He united with the Michigan Conference on trial in 1844, and passing the regular course of study, was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris in 1847, and elder by Bishop Hamline in 1849. His pastoral charges, after joining conference, were as follows: as junior preacher, 1844, Medina; 1845, Hillsdale; 1846, Brooklyn; 1847, Romeo; as pastor, 1848-'49, Almont; 1850, Lexington; 1851-'52, New Haven; 1853, Washington; 1854-'55, Oxford; 1856-'57, Hadley; 1858-'59, South Flint; 1860-'61, Grand Blanc; 1862, Flushing; 1863, Hartland; 1864-'66, superannuated; 1867, Richmond; 1868-'70, superannuated; 1871, Brandon; 1872-'76, superannuated; 1877, Swartz Creek; 1878-'80, Dixboro; 1881, Augusta, and from 1882 until his death, superannuated. He supplied Hartland charge one year in 1883-'84.

He passed his years of superannuation upon his farm near Armada, and latterly at Dexter and Ann Arbor. He was married at Romeo, in 1848, to Miss Naomi D. Sutherland, and to them were born six children, five of whom are still living. He transmitted to his family the lessons and benedictions of piety that he had received, and his children are all devoted and honored members of the church: Rev. M. T. Seelye, of the Detroit Conference; Prof. O. C. Seelye, of Racine, Wis.; Mrs. S. A. Kendrick, widow of the late Dr. Warren A. Kendrick, of Plymouth, and the Misses Carrie and Jennie, at Ann Arbor.

Religion and education constituted, to his mind, the greatest wealth a parent could lead his children into; hence he not only sought the conversion of all his children, but afforded them the means for securing a thorough education.

Inheritance and environment contributed largely to his fervent and religious life. His grandfather was a prominent local preacher in New York, and his parents were among the first Methodists in Lorain county, Ohio, where they lived previous to their coming to this State.

Of his wife's family, four brothers were ministers, sons of Col. Andrew Sutherland, of Cambria, N. Y. He was for many years an honored member of the Genesee Conference.

When Brother Seelye felt his call to the work of the ministry, his self-distrust led him to resist the call, regardless of the consequences. While in this state of rebellion, a very remarkable experience came to him, and he thought it a providence intended to save him from the mistake and sin of final refusal to preach the gospel.

He was taken very ill, and all his friends supposed him to be dying. At this time he had a vision, or seemed to be passing through a spiritual transportation. Two angels came and escorted him to the other world. He was borne by them upward along a pathway of light. Supreme peace and the most exquisite joy filled his soul; brightness ineffable shone down from above; he was drawn by an attraction of delight toward the celestial world. The glory of heaven was within and without. Suddenly he was stayed in his approach to heaven, and his angel companions were told that he must return, as his life-work was not done. Back from the brightness he receded to the darkness of earth, and was re-established in his physical tenement.

Even then his will did not bend to the divine call. In a second illness, some time after, a disclosure of hell was made to him, and a voice seemed to say that it was his to choose between that place of final abode and obedience to the call of duty. Then he surrendered, and the prolonged controversy ended. His early educational advantages had been in the district school, and in Norwalk seminary, at the time when Rev. Edward (afterward Bishop) Thomson was principal. Infirm health, however, interrupted his seminary studies and did not permit him to complete his course, but his thirst for knowledge led him to diligently pursue his studies alone.

He was of a very retiring nature, unassuming, quiet, diligent, devoted, sensitive in conscience, pure in motive and character, and spotless in his life. Because of his modest bearing and simplicity of tastes, he did not press himself upon the attention of others, nor manifest at conference gatherings his worth and abilities as fully as some would have done. These virtues, however, endeared him all the more to the people of his charges, and to his friends. As a preacher he was clear and faithful, rather than showy. Revivals attended his ministry. At Hadley the conversions during his pastorate numbered about three hundred. At Lexington the meetings aroused such universal interest that all the usual amusements of the season had to be abandoned.

His domestic life was one of unusual beauty and blessedness. At family prayers last New Year's day, after singing "My faith looks up to Thee," he said to the family: "Now let us repeat some texts of Scripture that give our experiences, and I want to say for myself, 'Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits to me.'"

At the church New Year's service that same evening, this singularly sweet testimony was given by him: "This is the happiest New Year of my life. I am all the Lord's. He directs my steps. Whether I live the entire year, or but two days of it, I am determined to make each day the best day of my life. I cannot only say that I do not fear death, but I can say that I shall be glad to depart when it is the Lord's will, for while to live is Christ, to die is gain." It is remarkable that it was just two days later that he died, the cause of his death not being very clear. The funeral services were held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Ann Arbor, Sunday afternoon, January 6, 1895, conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. M. Coborn, assisted by resident ministers, including our venerable brother, Rev. Ebenezer Steele.

"They that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever."

Rev. James S. Rose,

The fourteenth child of pious parents, was born near Smith's Falls, Ontario, January 5th, 1845, and died at his home in Detroit, Mich., April 26, 1895, in the 51st year of his age.

His mother died while he was a lad, and bore to her upper home his promise to meet her there. He was converted shortly afterward at a camp meeting near Burford, Ontario, where he was married on his 26th birthday to Miss Jane A. Terryberry, who with four children preceded him to the better land.

One daughter, Miss Georgia, is the only surviving member of the family, and was a comfort and companion to him in his later lonely months, ministering to him with great tenderness and devotion. In his youth Bro. Rose worked his way through college, and entered the ministry about the time of his marriage, and served seven charges in Ontario before coming to the United States. At the session of the Detroit Conference in 1884, held in East Saginaw, Bishop Ninde presiding, he was received as an elder from the Niagara Conference of the M. E. church of Canada. His appointments in this conference have been: 1884, Wesley Church, Detroit; 1885, Wyandotte; 1886-'87, Supernumerary; 1888, New Boston; 1889-'90, Belleville; 1891, Trenton; 1892-'94, Supernumerary, because of failing health, but he was serving Ninde Church, Detroit, as pastor when his last sickness and death came. Despite his suffering and bodily weakness he did a good deal of pastoral work in his charge.

On Easter Sabbath he rode to church, although so exhausted by the effort that he sank into the nearest pew, where after a few minutes he rallied and conducted the morning service. At its close he said to the congregation, "I have never thought of resigning my charge and relinquishing my blessed work, but now I fear that I must. There is this consolation, however, in contemplating such a step, I have done the best I could and have gone just as far as I possibly could." His words that day deeply affected the people. At another time, three weeks before his decease, his appearance and utterances had something almost super-earthly about them. He was narrating his own experience; his voice and looks took on tone and radiance more suggestive of the celestial than the terrestrial. He seemed to have vision of the things of the world invisible and to be touched by a transfiguring power.

He was a godly man of large sympathy and much tenderness in the service of those who were in trouble or sorrow. The forces of his being were spent in unostentatious labors for others' good. He was more intent on results to others than in the display of himself. His nature was guileless; thinking no evil he spoke no words of ill. Conscious of his own uprightness of purpose, he counted others as likewise pure in motive. He was genial and helpful to the young, who loved him as a friend.

The funeral services at his home were conducted by Rev. H. C. Scripps, assisted by Rev. Thomas Greenwood, and the remains were taken to Burford, Ontario, for interment. The Detroit Preacher's meeting at its next session adopted a series of appreciative and condoling resolutions which were entered upon its records.

"Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Rev. Edward F. Warner

Was born in Hastings, Michigan, August 21st, 1852, and died in Oakley, Michigan, May 13th, 1895, in the forty-third year of his age.

His mother was a Christian, his father a disciple of Hume and Paine. Young Warner, imbibing the principles of his father, cared little for churches or schools, and so grew to manhood without religion, and almost without schooling. But God had his plan for effecting the salvation of this mis-instructed young man and through him that of many others. The change in his views on religious subjects and his conversion were brought about through the gentleness, the consistency of life, and the earnest prayers of his faithful wife.

In a Thursday evening prayer meeting at Hartland, Rev. H. Hodskiss, pastor, our brother surrendered all for Christ, offered his first prayer in public, and from that hour became one of the most zealous Christian men, and never for a moment faltered or abated his zeal up to the very day of his death.

Brother Warner never allowed an opportunity to offer prayer, or give an exhortation to pass unimproved. This led some of his brethren to think him rather too forward, but it was only his pure devotion and zeal. Like his divine Lord he felt "I must be about my Father's business."

He was a close observer of men and methods, and possibly learned more in that school than he did in the study of books, although by no means slack or indolent in the use of books. He put in long and laborious hours with his conference studies, but not having had scholastic discipline in early life, he worked at a disadvantage, and no one felt it more keenly than himself. He spent a year at Albion College which was of great advantage to him. His contact with the professors and students did him a vast amount of good, which was observable in all his after work.

Brother Warner was teachable as a child, always ready to receive suggestion, instruction or reproof in the spirit of the disciple whom Jesus loved. He was a gentle spirit and always carried sunshine wherever he went, and this rendered him popular with his people and a welcome guest in their homes.

As a preacher, while his discourses were not always after the pattern shown in the mount of theoretical homiletics, yet being endowed with a vivid imagination and more than ordinary gifts of speech, and being filled with "the Holy Ghost and with faith," he could preach so as to move men's hearts, and in the heat of inspirational gospel discourse he was in disjunctive and apostrophic flights a man of real eloquence, and early training would have placed him among the foremost of his brethren.

Our brother was married to Mrs. Laura P. Andrus at Fenton, December 2d, 1876. Two children were born to them, the first, a lovely daughter, was translated in her ninth year, and the second, a son, now fourteen years of age and bearing his father's name. A step-daughter, Eva, has been for several years a successful teacher in our public schools.

Brother Warner served six different charges as pastor—all but one within the Bay City district. He was two years at Riggsville, four years at Sterling, one year at Otsego Lake, one year at Ossineke, one year at Wolverine, and was serving his first year on the Oakley charge when he was transferred to the church above. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Foss in 1889, and elder by Bishop Fowler in 1892.

The immediate cause of his death was cancer of the stomach, which he and his family had mistaken for indigestion, and which had been aggravated by overwork. Ten weeks of continuous revival work hastened the end, but during those ten weeks God had given him more than two hundred souls as seals to his faithful ministry.

It seemed as if he could not die until a neighboring pastor had promised him that he would conduct a three days' meeting for him at one of his out appointments for which he had planned before his strength failed him, and when Brother Kishpaugh promised him that he would see that his plan for the meeting was carried out, he asked all present to unite in a season of prayer and song, joining them as his strength would allow, and then taking the last affectionate farewell of his loved ones, he departed to be with Christ forever.

"Servant of God, well done!"

Rev. Henry Newton Brown

Heard the sudden summons calling him from labor to rest and coronation, near his home in Blissfield, Mich., on the 1st day of July, 1895, and a few moments after being struck by a passing freight train, "he was not, for God took him." His tragic death severs another of the bonds linking the ministry of today with the pioneer itinerancy of Michigan. His ministry in this State began exactly midway between the organization of the present two conferences; that is, ten years after the organization of the Michigan, and ten years before that of the Detroit. His membership in the itinerancy lacked but little more than a year of rounding out a half century. For thirty-five years he was in the active work as an effective preacher. Much of this service was rendered to our societies in the days of their feebleness and pioneer poverty. The preacher shared in their struggles and self-denials, laboring some years for $100 a year in churches that now pay ten times that amount.

This entry in the family Bible tells of his birth, conversion and the date of certain important events: "Henry Newton Brown, born November 15, 1821, in Nettleton, Lincolnshire, England; was converted December 23, 1842; joined the Wesleyan Methodist church in Bamford, Derbyshire, the Sunday following; left the city of Hull, England, May 17, 1843; landed in New York the 8th of July; joined the Methodist Episcopal church in September, 1843." He entered Albion college, remaining there, however, only during part of the year, being associated during this time in a Methodist "band" with Rev. Manasseh Hickey and others. In September, 1846, he joined the Michigan Conference on trial at Marshall, and in 1848 was received into full membership, and in 1856, at the time of division, he became a member of the newly created Detroit Conference. His appointments have been: 1846, Birmingham; 1847-'48, Lexington; 1849, Lakeville; 1850, Richmond; 1851, Hadley; 1852, Lapeer; 1853-'54, Carp River (Marquette); 1855-'56, Eagle River and Eagle Harbor; 1857, Ruby; 1858, Lexington; 1859-'60, East Saginaw; 1861, Northville; 1862-'63, Belleville and Sheldon's; 1864, Seventh Street (Simpson), Detroit; 1865-'66, Blissfield; 1867, Clinton; 1868, Petersburg; 1869, Ridgeway; 1870-'71, Grand Blanc; 1872, Sixteenth Street (Detroit) and Greenfield; 1873, Denton and Sheldon; 1874-'75, Leesville and Warren; 1876, Leesville and Norris; 1877-'78, Trenton; 1879-'80, Royal Oak. In 1881 he superannuated, and remained in that relation until his death.

He was married August 24, 1848, to Loanna R. Hoard, with whom he lived forty-one years, she dying September 7, 1889. Their family consisted of four sons, three of whom are now living—one in Detroit, one in Saginaw and one in Duluth, Minn.; the second son died in infancy. In 1890 he made a trip to England to visit his sisters, staying there nearly a year. While there he sought in vain for some of the friends of his youth. Going to the old village sexton, he asked after them one by one by name, receiving the invariable reply, "Gone," "gone." In 1892 he was married to Mrs. Catherine C. Beagle, of Blissfield, Mich., a parishioner of thirty years before. They lived happily together in Blissfield, spending their years in a very quiet way, doing good, visiting the sick and afflicted, and attending the means of grace. He was universally beloved in this his last home.

He was a man of happy disposition and well adapted to help people facing the difficulties of those earlier years. His preaching was clear and sound, but not especially adorned with rhetorical figures nor marked by cultivated eloquence. He was self-made, and not the product of the schools. However, he had a desire for learning and for training under teachers, and had it not been for the vicious persuasion of older preachers, he would have finished a college course at Albion. His mind was a clear one, his convictions had definite outline, and he possessed will and courage. Early schooling would have increased his native powers and given him more confidence in himself. He loved to preach, and was prone to enlarge his circuit by creating new preaching appointments on his charge among those people who were distant from church. He was diligent as a pastor, and quite excelled in this branch of labors, visiting his people faithfully and coming in personal touch with them all.

Some of his appointments were not only laborious, but involved exposure and danger. Two hairbreadth escapes while in pursuit of his ministerial work always seemed to him special providences. While driving to an appointment in what is now the Port Huron district, in his cutter through the woods, a large tree fell across the road, coming down upon and instantly killing his horse, which was drawing him. At another time, when fording a swollen stream, he and his horse were swept out of their course by the current. The stream had much of driftwood in it, and horse and rider became mixed up with this. In the struggle Bro. Brown's foot became fastened into the stirrup straps and the horse was on top of him and both were being carried to apparent death. Grasping for something or anything in his desperation, his hand clutched a literal straw, which he instantly thrust as by a sudden inspiration into the ear of his horse. This caused the animal to make a fresh plunge, and the movement released Bro. Brown's foot, and he saved himself. Many of his first years were spent in work requiring these kinds of exposures. He traveled in canoe and in snowshoes as well as on horseback. He visited lumber camps and mining towns, he labored among the Indians, and was four years in the Lake Superior region.

Funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Geo. E. Sloan, and his remains were interred at Blissfield.

"And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

Mrs. Sophronia Louise Taylor.

Sophronia Louise, daughter of Deacon Daniel and Betsey Lyon, and wife of Rev. Sibley G. Taylor, was born in Ann Arbor, Mich., July 14, 1842, and passed to her heavenly home from Grayling, Mich., December 9, 1894.

In her early childhood her parents moved to Owosso, Mich., where she grew to womanhood in the sanctified atmosphere of a Christian home, and here the foundations were laid for the saintly character so beautifully revealed in her later life. She was married to Brother Taylor December 23d, 1862, and they at once moved to Ann Arbor, where in 1866, Sister Taylor was converted and united with the M. E. church.

Brother Taylor having graduated from the law department of the State University, practiced his profession in Ann Arbor for a number of years, and then moved to Tawas City, where he was soundly and happily converted several years ago, and feeling at once, "Woe is me if I preach not the gospel," he left his chosen profession and entered heartily upon his Master's business. Sister Taylor was only too glad to become his ardent and faithful helper, and greatly enjoyed the work. Among the last things she said was that the past ten years had been the happiest portion of her life. She was an accomplished musician, which added much to her efficiency in church work. Her disease was of such a nature as to cause intense pain at times, yet she bore it all without a word of murmur or complaint. She even stopped her husband in the midst of an earnest prayer for her recovery, and asked him to say, "Father, thy will be done." The affectionate, tender words she spoke to her family and friends will never be forgotten.

The people at Grayling showed the utmost kindness and attention during her last illness, anticipating and providing for every want, and doing everything possible to cheer her and comfort her family. She died of internal cancer. A husband, three sons, a daughter, and one brother, Hon. Gilbert L. Lyon, and a host of friends mourn her departure. Funeral services were held at Owosso, conducted by Rev. E. E. Caster, assisted by Rev. R. Woodhams, presiding elder of Bay City district, and her remains were laid in the Owosso cemetery to await the Master's call to grace His final triumph.

"She hath done what she could."

Mrs. Desire Hodskiss,

Relict of Rev. Harvey Hodskiss, was born in Genesee county, New York, December 9, 1817, and died at her home in Locke, Mich., December 8, 1894. Her maiden name was Hill. She was married to

Rev. Harvey Hodskiss in Chautauqua county, New York, April 9, 1837, and soon after they moved to Ohio, and in the fall of 1855 to Michigan, settling in the town of Locke, in Ingham county. Of five children born to them, only one, Mrs. L. Wright, remains. Sister Hodskiss became early inured to the trials and hardships of an itinerant minister's life, and endured its burdens and privations uncomplainingly.

She was a faithful companion and helpmeet, accompanying her husband in his various fields of labor as long as her health would permit, and cheering him in his work. She was a devoted mother, a kind and obliging neighbor, and had a large circle of warm personal friends. On account of poor health, she had not been able to attend public worship for several years, yet in her home and family she adorned the doctrine of God our Savior by a consistent Christian life. Her funeral was conducted by her pastor, Rev. T. B. McGee, assisted by Rev. Mr. Martin, of the Wesleyan Methodist church, and on her seventy-seventh birthday she was laid to rest beside her husband, who preceded her by eleven months only.

"At evening time it shall be light."

Mrs. Patty H. Camburn,

Relict of Rev. I. H. Camburn, was born in Mt. Morris, New York, August 12, 1817, and died at the residence of her brother, J. L. Miller, in Albion, Mich., February 14, 1895, in her seventy-eighth year.

In her family Bible it is recorded that she experienced religion in 1832. August 20, 1837, she married with Rev. I. H. Camburn, and endured the labors and vicissitudes of an itinerant's wife for twenty-two years, when, Bro. C.'s health failing, he was compelled to superannuate, and they settled in Denton, Wayne county, where Brother Camburn died January 20, 1885, and Sister Camburn never recovered from the almost complete prostration caused by his death.

The following August she went to live with her brother, where she spent the remaining years of her widowhood, and from whence she heard the sudden summons, "Come up higher," and her glad soul responded to the call from toil, pain and sorrow, to rest and joy in her Savior's blessed presence. She was a constant reader of the Michigan and Northwestern Advocates, and thus kept in touch with Methodism and the affairs of the church militant. Her funeral was conducted by Rev. R. W. Van Schoick, and Revs. Griffin, Jordan, Hunsberger, Dunning, Freeman and Clancy acted as pall-bearers. Her remains were interred by the side of those of her husband at Franklin Centre, Mich.

"So He giveth His beloved sleep."

Mrs. Julia Jeannette Harding,

Widow of the late Rev. A. W. Harding, of the Detroit Conference, died in great peace in the home of her son, Arthur, at Tecumseh, Mich., July 12, 1895, aged fifty-one years, one month and seven days.

Julia Jeannette McRay was born in the town of Raisin, Mich., and married to Rev. A. W. Harding August 28, 1866, and the next autumn entered upon the arduous duties of a Methodist itinerant's wife, and until Brother Harding's superannuation in 1876, she was his faithful co-laborer. Two children, a son and daughter, were born to them, both living. Converted in early life, Sister Harding identified herself with the Methodist Episcopal church and its interests, and was an earnest toiler in her Master's vineyard, being a faithful Sunday school teacher and an ardent worker in the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and other church societies. She was for many years, and at the time of her death, recording secretary of the W. F. M. S. of Adrian district.

A step-son, Rev. W. F. Harding, of Terre Haute, Ind., was among those present at the funeral services, which were conducted by Rev. L. Barnes, assisted by Rev. W. Q. Burnett, and her remains were deposited by the side of those of her husband in the cemetery at Tecumseh.

"There remaineth a rest to the people of God."

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

DETROIT CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD.

There have been in the Detroit Home the past year four licensed Deaconesses: Lucretia A. Gaddis, Superintendent of the Home; Mary Hartwell, Deborah Kerfoot, and Minnie West. We ask that these persons be approved by the Conference that they may continue their work.

Miss Sarah Elizabeth Thornborough has removed during the past year to the Pittsburgh Home, but asks the approval of this Conference.

The names of the probationers in the Detroit Home during the year are as follows: Anna Johnson, Kate Blackburn, Susanna Bieri, Laura Wright, Eliza Hicks, Viola McPherson, Kate Case, Saddle Kissack, also Mrs. Harriet Kellar, associate Deaconess in charge of the Tillman Avenue Mission.

Miss Saddle Kissack left the Home in December for Deaconess work in West China. Miss Laura Wright is under appointment for Muttra, India, and expects to sail sometime in October. Miss West and Miss Case are away on temporary leave of absence.

The Superintendent of the Home reports that the course of study prescribed for probationers has been satisfactorily prosecuted under direction of the Training School Committee, (the pastors and others acting as teachers).

This Board has voted to license the following named persons: Miss Kate Blackburn, recommended by the Quarterly Conference of the Tabernacle Church; Miss Anna Johnson, recommended by the Quarterly Conference of the Central Church; and Miss Susanna Bieri, recommended by the 2nd German Church, all of Detroit.

The Tillman Avenue Mission under direction of Mrs. Kellar is constantly making progress. The Sunday School and Sewing School we are told, are in a flourishing condition. At this Mission they make special mention of their indebtedness to the Epworth and Junior Leagues. Here also a number of children have been baptized and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper has been administered quarterly. The probationers' class is connected with the Simpson Church.

That you may have before you, to some extent, the nature and scope of the work performed by the Deaconesses, we present the following statistics from the Detroit Home:

ALBION COLLEGE.

* * * Considering the depression in the business of the country, Albion College has displayed a decidedly vigorous life. We had anticipated a decrease in attendance of students, but these fears have not been realized. In the aggregate there has been some increase over '93, the year before the panic, and in the college of liberal arts—the four college classes—there has been an increase of 34 per cent. In the last year we have gained somewhat over the year preceding.

All expenditures have been made during the year under a system of strict economy. Five hundred and fifty volumes have been added to the library, the larger part of the money for the same being earned by the Ladies' Library Association. The library now contains a little over 10,000 bound volumes and 4,000 unbound volumes and pamphlets.

Without cost to the institution, through the generosity of the business men of Albion, the chapel has been reseated from the works of the Globe Furniture Company of Northville, Mr. F. R. Beal making a personal contribution towards the same.

One of the ladies' societies is now erecting a hall in which to hold their meetings. The building is nearing completion.

The faculty of the college has decided to offer courses during the coming year on the university extension plan, as carried out by its leading advocates in the United States. The aim is to give to the public in different towns in the State where arrangements may be made for the same, in courses of six lectures, systematic instruction along certain lines of investigation. The advantage accruing will be not simply to make the college more directly a center of education, but to interest the people in educational work through trained leadership, carrying knowledge to their doors and supervising the reading in connection with the courses pursued.

Lectures will be offered on the following subjects: General Chemistry, Chemistry of Every-day Life, Sanitary Science, Physical Geography, Types of Animal Life, English Literature, American Literature, French Literature, German Literature, Greek Literature, The English Bible, Studies of Bible Lands, Studies in the History of Europe during the 19th Century, Life and Trials of Napoleon, American Political Institutions, Formation of the American Union, Slavery and Politics, Some American Statesmen and their Political Movements—such as Washington and the Constitution, Calhoun and Nullification, etc.

With your coöperation, the college can help the communities in which you live—doing something to interest the young, and many that are older, in broad fields of study.

Not only is it true that the college has been able to use profitably all the money that has come into our hands, but the need of more money has been to us a serious embarrassment. So completely have the scope and work of the institution changed during the last fourteen or fifteen years, so many improvements made to meet the great and increasing demands, so large has been the expansion to keep fully abreast with the great transformations in the college life of recent days that comparatively large sums of money must be expended or death would soon follow. We have sought not only to escape from death, but to build up an educational life that is strong and vigorous. This we supposed you expected of us. One hundred thousand Methodists in Michigan, three hundred thousand either members of our church or affiliated with us surely, are able to give adequate financial support to the college.

A year ago, as the stringency of the times brought us face to face with financial problems, and hoping that the standing and prospects of the college would lead men of both larger and smaller means to contribute for her support and growth we cut down the expenses strictly within the lowest estimate of income, appealing to our friends for liberal gifts to prevent any crippling of the work of the school. The faculty consented to an aggregate reduction of salary to the extent of $5,000, although the amount before paid was meager in view of the service rendered; members of the Board of Trustees contributed personally for the year $2,000. The Conferences at our request voted to turn over the general educational collection to the college, and voted still further to make this collection as large as possible.

From information received we anticipate something like $3,300 from the Michigan Conference, but fear the fund will be considerable less from the Detroit Conference. But we are confident the Secretary's report will show that we have kept our expenses within our income, and that because of some special negotiations we have reduced our indebtedness several thousand dollars. The rate of interest at which we are able to loan our moneys being so much lower than in former years reduces our income so far as derived from this source. Some relief will soon be experienced from the introducing of certain subscriptions for endowment. However within a few years the annual receipts from students has increased from $3,000 to nearly $16,000.

We respectfully ask you to continue and make permanent the order adopted a year ago of turning over to your college the amount raised in the general educational collection. It is a method commonly employed by the Conferences throughout the country.

If every member of the Conference will liberally and spiritedly carry out the provisions of the Discipline relating to our educational work, these collections will easily aggregate $10,000 a year.

Through the agencies provided by the Discipline, we could get so near to the people that when the time came to take up the collection the amount would easily be raised.

There is a comparatively large debt resting on the college. The interest on this embarrasses the institution by adding to the annual expenditures, and for every reason this debt ought to be removed.

That the college has educationally won success in this State is the general verdict among Methodists and others. This success is genuine and substantial. It could not have been won with an expenditure of less money. It could have done more if more money could have been used. A false impression evidently has prevailed, that its financial growth had kept pace with its educational growth. The fact is that for many years very little money has been given to the institution to enable it to carry forward its work. In 1889 Hon. H. M. Loud gave $30,000 for the endowment of the chair of history, this yielding us an income of $1,500 a year. Aside from this, for twenty-two years, since the special effort of our now sainted brother, David Preston, not enough, in the aggregate, has been paid over towards endowment of the college to add $1,000 to our annual income. In other words, not to exceed $45,000 during twenty-two years has been added to the endowment of the college, except a few thousand dollars for the alumni chair now waiting for the balance to be paid in. In the meantime the reduction in the rates of interest has actually reduced our income from loans to a lower figure than it was twenty years ago. Yet in spite of all of this the college has grown and risen into prominence.

It is proper here to remark that there is on the college campus today, added in the last fifteen years, as follows:

McMillan laboratory.....	$35,000
Astronomical observatory.....	10,000
Gymnasium.....	8,000
Library.....	12,000
Museum, including cases.....	6,000
Biological laboratory.....	1,000
Other educational appliances and remodeling of buildings.....	3,000
 Total.....	 $75,000

The work already done by the college agent will, in the future, bear much practical fruit in the building up and strengthening of the college.

There are two subscriptions aggregating $45,000, one due next year, and the other the year following. This sum will be added to the endowment. There is another gift of $5,000.

The subscription of Senator Thomas W. Palmer, of $10,000, to be paid in 1898, is for endowment of a lectureship.

The McMillan Laboratory building has been secured.

The Bliss Memorial Library building, provided the endowment of the library be raised.

Some gifts from Mr. Ezra Bostwick, of Union City, etc.

Something like $12,000, not yet paid in, has been subscribed for the alumni chair of the English Bible. This sum will all be due in December next.

THE OFFICIAL VISITOR TO THE WOMAN'S COLLEGE OF BALTIMORE.

"A million dollars are now invested in the plant and endowment of the Woman's College of Baltimore. It was founded by the Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church for the avowed purpose of offering young women facilities for a thorough collegiate education under conditions equally favorable to physical and moral well being."

Thus reads an extract from the last catalogue issued by the college. As your official visitor to that institution, I desire to assure you that in every respect we found the Woman's College of Baltimore to be an ideal college for women. Baltimore is a city of libraries, and offers many other advantages, to all of which the students of the college are entitled. The dormitories and homes for the students are of the most modern construction. The sanitation is perfect. Every provision possible has been made to maintain the health of the students, so that in fact a great gain in physical strength is noted during the four years of attendance in the case of very many young women.

The matrons are refined and motherly looking women. Only specialists are invited to become professors in this college.

The influence of that admirable Christian gentleman and large-hearted philanthropist, John F. Goucher, D. D., the president of the college, and indeed of all the faculty, is always an encouragement to the highest Christian character. The Bible is studied systematically as a part of the required course.

The college is not sectarian, but its professors and directors are Methodists, who believe that true scholarship is not a foe to the doctrines of the M. E. church, and that the rules of the Discipline should be observed by the faculty and students of a Methodist college.

Six scholarships are annually given to the six best students, entitling them to one year's tuition free.

The tuition fee is only $100, half of which is remitted to ministers of the Gospel, and, under certain conditions, to students who are preparing for missionary work.

For $200 one may be provided in one of these elegant homes with room, board, lights, heat and washing for the entire year.

MISSION AUDITORS.

Your committee have examined the vouchers in the hands of the Presiding Elders respecting missionary appropriations, and find them all correct.—G. L. HANAWALT, Chairman.

BIBLE CAUSE.

Believing the Bible to be the revelation of God to man, and that it lies at the foundation of all that we hold dear to the individual, the church and the nation, it is gratifying to know that the American Bible Society has put into circulation 60 million copies of the word, and during the past year has sent out from the Bible House more than a million and a half of copies to meet the demands of the work at home and abroad. The increased circulation in the foreign missionary field over all previous years is encouraging and aggregates 735,221 volumes.

We would recommend that our pastors give attention to the effort that is being made to supply the children and youth of our Sunday schools with Bibles as their personal possession.

We regret that so large a number of our charges have failed to take the collection for the Bible cause. Therefore, we do reaffirm the action of the last General Conference, that the pastors give special emphasis to the collection, and the local churches be asked to increase their contributions to this cause; and to this end we authorize the Presiding Elders to apportion to the several charges an amount equal to three cents per member.—G. H. WHITNEY, Chairman.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

From all sources that we have been able to obtain information, the glad tidings come that the Sunday schools of our churches are being carefully looked after by all our pastors, and well sustained by the members of the church.

We are sure that all our Presiding Elders are attentive to the requirements of the Discipline in insisting on all of our Sunday Schools being organized as missionary Sunday schools.

The report of our book agent, Dr. Hunt, assures us that our Sunday schools are loyal to the church in using our own publications.

We urge upon all that we make a greater effort to increase the collection for the Sunday School Union of our church.—J. B. OLIVER, Chairman.

TRACTS.

The great good accomplished by our Tract Society, and the demand there is in all parts of our land for the information they contain, make it imperative upon us to do all we can to increase the collection for tracts and their distribution.—J. B. OLIVER, Chairman.

PARSONAGES.

WHEREAS, The minutes of the last Conference report 300 charges within its bounds and only 214 parsonages therein, leaving 86 charges which have no place for their pastors to live, and

WHEREAS, In our judgment the value of comfortable homes, furnished with substantial furniture, and appointed for the use of our pastors and their families, can scarcely be overestimated.

Resolved, That we urge it as the duty of pastor and people to press forward this work of building and furnishing until homes for the pastors shall be erected upon every charge within the bounds of this Conference, and that every Presiding Elder should give this subject special attention in the quarterly conferences and elsewhere, and thus bring his influence to bear to induce our people everywhere to provide comfortable homes for our preachers; and every pastor consider it a conscientious duty which he owes to the church and his successors to leave the parsonage and grounds in as good or even better condition than when he entered them.—T. B. McGEE, Chairman.

SANCTITY OF THE SABBATH.

The United States is a Christian nation, founded upon Christian principles, but we greatly fear that our generation is sadly departing from the high ground of moral and religious sentiment on which our fathers stood. We deeply deplore the manifest tendency of our times to ignore the authority of Divine law and the sanctity of the Sabbath.

The great conflict between the church and the world is upon us. The question of "Sabbath or no Sabbath" is the momentous question on which hinges the future glory and safety of the American nation. The overthrow of the Christian Sabbath means the overthrow of the moral and religious sentiment of the people. It devolves upon the American churches to protect this national institution. Unless the American Christians observe the Divine law regarding the Sabbath, we have no right to expect the foreigners who come to our shores to respect our laws or observe our Sabbath. We therefore call upon all our members, and the people of America generally, to sacredly guard God's Holy Day, and to refrain from buying and selling, and from all unnecessary work and pleasures on that day.—M. W. GIFFORD, Chairman.

TEMPERANCE.

A formal denunciation of the liquor traffic, and that alone, is insufficient. The monster devours a hundred million dollars a month, taking it largely from the hands of the wage earners, who should carry it to their families. He scourges to the grave a hundred and fifty thousand human beings every year, and lays waste the manhood of as many more. He breathes his blighting breath on that which is purest and best—childhood and womanhood.

We hail with gratitude every advance which looks to the better instruction in temperance of the multitudes of children and youth, and to the maintenance of law.

The need of the hour is concert of action. This conviction is pervading the churches. In its representative capacity each denomination has declared against this infamy in most unmistakable terms, our own denomination asserting that "it cannot be legalized without sin." This conviction needs to be fastened upon the consciences of the individual members of the church. As one of the means of accomplishing this, we believe that any one who shall act as a fraternal delegate to convey our greetings to a sister denomination may render great service to the cause of temperance by presenting the urgent need of a forward movement all along the line among the churches. And we recommend that wherever practicable union meetings shall be held, without respect of creed, to promote a healthy public sentiment against this monstrous evil; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That the pastor who may reside nearest the church where the annual assembly or association of another denomination shall be convened is hereby requested to call attention to the above measure and ask its indorsement.

2. That we stand for the enforcement of the laws we now have, that we will work to secure the enactment of better laws, and that we will not cease our efforts until the traffic shall have been destroyed.

3. That we should take advantage of the provision now made for local option by counties, and that we invite the coöperation of all Christian people in placing as many counties as possible under local option. And where whole counties cannot be thus carried, that we call the attention of our people to the recent decision of the supreme court giving local option to villages, and ask our people to support for village officers only those who favor the entire suppression of the traffic.

4. That we favor the election, regardless of party, of senators and representatives to our next legislature who will grant us the right of petition and will submit to popular vote an amendment to the State constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.—F. C. PILLSBURY, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PERIODICALS.

Recognizing the almost illimitable influence, for weal or woe, wielded by the press, it is no wonder that every organization hastens to secure the public attention through an organ of some description. In this our own church has been wise.

The influence exerted being vast, it is highly important that the best men we have should wield the editorial pen. The future of all the enterprises of the church will be moulded as much by what the people read as by what they hear from the pulpit, or possibly more. Therefore, uncertain men in command of these papers would be hazardous to the whole church. We are pleased to note the vast circulation of our papers, periodicals and books. However, it is evident, for some cause, that numbers of our families are not visited by any of our advocates. We commend this to the consideration of the publishers, and trust that, if possible, a plan may be devised so that some one of our official papers, as well as our local advocate, may go into each Methodist home.

Every Methodist preacher should take the Methodist Review, and should advocate its importance to thoughtful people. The stimulus to his work resulting from a careful study of the discussions of the ably edited periodical in our church can but be of lasting benefit to every preacher.

Regretfully we must state that all our official papers save two—the Epworth Herald and Christian Apologist (German)—have fallen off in circulation during the past year. We hope this matter may receive proper attention.

We are proud of the Epworth Herald. Bright, crisp and full of life and vigor, it is meeting with only deserved success, and its 90,000 circulation is a source of congratulation to the church. The Michigan Christian Advocate remains deservedly popular, for it has won its way to the front against all obstacles. Pure, strong, commendable for the stand taken on all the living issues, we are thankful for the increasing strength and favor with which it is received by the people.

As there was referred to this committee the subject, "How to get our books and publications into the hands of the people," we offer the suggestion: Each pastor might secure a responsible and suitable person in the church who, at some stated time, having ascertained somewhat the needs of the people on these lines, might have the books sent him, and a sort of book-store conducted in his church for a week or so. This would give the people a chance to see, inspect and buy. Those not sold could be returned.—S.M. GILCHRIESE, Chairman.

WOMAN'S HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society deservedly holds a high place in the affections of the ministry and membership of the church, for its beneficent influence has extended throughout the whole of our country.

Especially have we of the Detroit Conference reason to be grateful to this society for the largeheartedness and love with which it has responded to the needs of our frontier work, particularly in the Lake Superior district, and thus sustained the servants who preach God's word in remote and scattered fields.

Remembering its powerful assistance in behalf of the church and its labor of love for the salvation of man, it is with pleasure that we note its continued growth, it having in the Detroit Conference a total membership of 2,327, an increase of 158 for the year. It has raised, in money, $6,535, and in supplies, $2,254. Its loan library has been a great blessing to our young men. To it there have been added this year sixty-five new books, at a cost of $70. Sixty-four of the brethren have availed themselves of the privilege of this library.

It is very gratifying to record a year of such prosperity, and we wish there might be an auxiliary on every charge in our Conference.

As pastors we ought, on account of the results brought about through the instrumentality of this society, to give it our heartiest support and sympathy.—W. M. WARD, Chairman.

ARMY AND NAVY.

The Methodist Church cannot be unmindful of the condition and prospects of the civil government. Government is of God, but the condition and character of that government is left much to human management. The history of the church in this land is the history of loyalty to the nation. But she cannot well do the work that Jesus Christ has committed to her hands in a land where human rights are disregarded, or man is put to disadvantage by prevalent vice or unjust and oppressive laws.

The history of this nation is a march toward higher and nobler ideas. In this march the church of Jesus Christ has led the van. Things that were approved and practiced, with little and often no reproach, as slavery and intemperance, are now regarded with the utmost horror by a constantly increasing element in the State. In the great evolution of society vast struggles seem to be inevitable. A great reformer said: "Civilization never got on but on a powder cart." Such a struggle was the war of the great rebellion. Four millions of men engaged in mortal combat for four years. The sympathy of the Methodist Church, and vast numbers of her people, were in that war, from beginning to its end. About one million of the soldiers of the Union army are still living. Many of them are maimed, and nearly all crippled, as the results of exposure, the struggles of battle, or the indescribable horrors of prison life. These men were promised the greatest care and protection, as they marched away in all the fire and pomp of military enthusiasm. If they returned successful they were to be crowned with the glory of a nation's gratitude. If they fell in battle or wasted away with the poison of disease, the loved ones were to share what was due the fallen soldier. There are about two millions of the surviving kindred of those who fell on southern battle fields. Officers of the government and eminent men in the community made great pledges to those who sleep the sleep of heroes concerning what should be if the loved ones come not back. Those pledges have not been well kept.

These men who survive or fell bore the brunt of the great struggle for national existence when the great problem of human freedom hung trembling in the balance. And while it may not be deemed wise as a conference for us to give any expression concerning the subject of pensions and other questions that may seem to have a political bearing, still it seems wise to express our sympathy with the men of the army and navy who survive and the families of those who have departed. Your committee would therefore recommend for adoption the following:

Resolved, 1. That we will coöperate, so far as possible, in the sacred services of Memorial Day, that national Sabbath of the Grand Army of the Republic.

2. That we will cordially coöperate in maintaining the custom of inviting the veterans of the late war and their friends, and all who are in sympathy with a sound Americanism, to a sermon to be delivered on the Sabbath previous to Memorial Day.

3. That we hereby express our sympathy with the soldiers and the families of soldiers, and will endeavor to give them special pastoral attention, that they may be led to the enjoyment of that hope that the soldier has done so much to prepare the way for, in the consolidation and uplifting of the nation.

4. That, while in some instances old soldiers may not have been wise in the use to which they have put themselves, yet it must be true that no man who has made a barricade of his body to stop the shells of the enemy can so forfeit the gratitude of the nation and the honor due him for what he has done and been, as to be beyond our special effort to uplift and save. Therefore, in view of what he was and did, we recognize a special claim on us to do him and his what good we may.—H. S. WHITE, Chairman.

DEBTS DUE THE BOOK CONCERN.

Your committee finds that some of the brethren indebted to the Book Concern are not at the seat of the Conference, and that others, owing to the stringency of the times and other causes, have not been able to pay their accounts. We therefore recommend that:

1. All parties owing the Book Concern put forth their utmost efforts to pay their accounts in full or at least in part at the earliest date.
2. That all accounts due the Concern should be promptly paid at the sessions of the annual Conference.—J. H. MCINTOSH, BENJAMIN REEVE, GEO. W. JENNINGS.

EPWORTH LEAGUE REPORT.

Great power entrusted to any organization entails great responsibility for the reason that it is sure to work great good or evil.

We think it well that this condition should be regarded by every member of the League of our Conference.

The highest good can only be done by minds trained to serious thought. We are glad therefore that there has already been provided an Epworth League reading course, and we heartily commend it to the members of our Conference Leagues, and urge them to study it.

As in the early years of Methodism, educational systems rapidly crystalized to meet the stupendous need of untrained hosts, so now in the early years of the League, education that will give steadiness, sobriety and capacity is the great need. The great numbers of early Methodists could not stop to go through the schools, yet for all that they educated themselves.

We also approve of district, state and international conventions as conducive to the proper training and equipping of the League for its grave work, and we urge every chapter to send representatives to these assemblies, able to represent the chapter, participate in the conventions and to carry back to the chapter the benefits of their attendance.

We also approve the Epworth Herald, and desire that every Epworth Leaguer would take the paper and faithfully read it.

And to this same general purpose we commend to the pastors that they make it a most careful study that competent leaders be provided for devotional meetings.

And we commend to every chapter that by all learning and prayer and faith it can command, it grapple with the great question now engaging all mankind—the social equality question—and settle it so far as each chapter is concerned as Christ would settle it.—JOHN M. SHANK, Chairman.

THE FREEDMEN'S AID AND SOUTHERN EDUCATION SOCIETY.

We hereby reaffirm the utterances made in former sessions of our Conference concerning the great work of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society. We congratulate the church upon the careful and economical manner in which its business is conducted, and we hereby pledge ourselves to present the claims of the society to our congregations, and solicit their liberal contributions.—JAMES JACKSON, Chairman.

WOMAN'S FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, as an agency for the extension of Christ's kingdom in the earth, needs no commendation from us.

We congratulate our sisters of Detroit Conference on their splendid record of the years that are past.

They have cheered the hearts of our missionaries by their steady faith when others were inclined to doubt.

Only eternity can reveal the extent of the sacrifices that have been made by the American women who have gone to carry the message of salvation to the daughters of the people who sit in darkness.

We earnestly recommend the formation of auxiliaries on all our charges, not only because the receipts of the society will be thereby increased, but our own women will be spiritually and intellectually elevated by their attempts to assist their sisters in other lands.

Their reports should be carefully studied by all our pastors, and their periodical, The Heathen Woman's Friend, should be in every Methodist family.—D. C. CHALLIS, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHURCH EXTENSION.

The work accomplished by the Church Extension Society in the twenty-nine years of its existence is the most effectual appeal for the continued and increasing patronage of the church. From 1866 to September 1, 1895, the Board has collected and disbursed (in round numbers) $5,413,000. Of this the General Fund, derived mainly from collections, has reached the sum of $3,482,000. The Loan Fund has a permanent capital of $958,000. Churches borrowing from it have returned $973,000, making an aggregate as given above. With this the Board has aided 9,744 churches. The collections taken in the churches of our Conference, from the beginning to November 1, 1894 (the close of last fiscal year), aggregate $31,668; reported to the Board from November 1, 1894, to date, $182; cash in hands of Conference Treasurer, $1,368; making the total contributed by this Conference, $33,238.

There have been disbursed within the bounds of our Conference to November 1, 1894, by donations, $26,915; by loans, $22,700.

It is obvious that the efficiency of the Loan Fund depends upon the promptness of the churches borrowing from it in meeting their obligations. We urge our churches to meet these claims with strictest fidelity.

We recommend for adoption the following resolution:

(1.) We congratulate the church upon the great work accomplished by our Board of Church Extension, and commend it to the enlarged liberality of the people.

(2.) The fact that our population doubles in less than thirty years, so that within another quarter of a century we shall exceed a hundred millions of people, demands that the work of church extension shall immediately be greatly enlarged, and more than doubled in the quarter of a century to come.

(3.) In order to do this we will, in our several appointments, avail ourselves of the helps provided by the Board, and will endeavor to lead all our churches to respond in full to the call made upon them in pursuance of the plans of the Discipline.—J. S. JOSLIN.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ITINERANT'S CLUB.

The Committee on Itinerants' Club would respectfully report: A Conference Itinerants' Club was held at Flint in May. A large attendance of ministers and a program of great interest and excellence made the meeting eminently successful and profitable.

Your committee would suggest that a committee of five be appointed to arrange for a meeting of the Itinerants' Club next year at such time and place as may seem best to them.

We would nominate as such committee: C. H. Morgan, W. F. Sheridan, Edward B. Bancroft, Edward S. Ninde, S. W. Horner. Respectfully submitted, A. B. STORMS, Chairman.

EDUCATION.

Our Discipline informs us that all candidates for admission to annual conferences are officially and earnestly advised to prepare themselves for the pastoral work, not as formerly, in actual pastorate, but in the theological and other schools of the church.

This era of inquiry, critical investigation, profound research and widespread information makes it a supreme duty of our church to put men into her pulpits who are thoroughly prepared for leadership, men who know the past and how to treasure its priceless inheritance, and who are thoroughly well informed as to the trend of modern religious thought. Christianity has as vital relations to the life and thought of the present as ever in the past, but we cannot hope to grasp these relations with power from our pulpits and through our church except we have a ministry of breadth, intelligence and culture. We earnestly urge upon our presiding elders the importance of extreme conservatism in recommending any young men for admission to conference who have not completed a course of study in some one of our schools, and a theological course where possible.

The Board of Education is doing a great work in promoting the cause of higher education in our church. The last General Conference took advanced action in regard to the educational work of the church, which brings our institutions of learning under a limited connectional supervision. We are pleased to learn from Secretary Payne that this new departure is working very successfully. The "University Senate," authorized by the General Conference, has formulated a minimum standard of requirements for graduation to the baccalaureate degree in any Methodist college, and the Board of Education, as directed by the church, has applied these requirements to all the colleges of the church, and as a result over forty of these colleges have elevated their standards. This movement promises much for the future of our educational institutions.

The Board is also rendering the church excellent service in helping to raise up an efficient corps of ministers, missionaries and Christian workers in all fields, at home and abroad. We learn with pleasure that this Board is now aiding annually more than fifteen hundred students in one hundred and thirty-eight institutions in all parts of the world. The statement of the secretary that sixty-two students belonging to the State of Michigan have been aided during the last year to the amount of $2,991, while the State has paid into the treasury of the Board but $2,313, ought to incite us to special effort to increase this collection; therefore,

Resolved, That we urge all the preachers to observe Children's Day in every Sunday school, taking a collection for the Children's Educational Fund; that we also recommend the use of the programs prepared by our Board. We also recommend the use of the collection envelopes furnished gratuitously by the Board.

Your committee would nominate as visitors: To Albion College, H. C. Scripps, Geo. Whitaker; to Boston Theological School, W. F. Sheridan, A. W. Stalker; to the Woman's College of Baltimore, L. P. Davis, P. R. Parrish; to Garrett Biblical Institute, F. L. Osborne, F. C. Pillsbury.

We would nominate as trustees of Albion College, to succeed themselves, Mr. Geo. O. Robinson and Mr. Joseph L. Hudson, and as trustees of the Northwestern University, Arthur Edwards and J. F. Berry. Respectfully submitted, A. B. STORMS, Chairman Committee.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved, That we record a unanimous conviction of sincere pleasure in the presence of Bishop John F. Hurst at this Conference. That his kindly bearing, inspiring instruction, and efficient administration have been a benediction to us. We sincerely pray for rich blessings on him as he moves on in holy service amid the churches and prosecutes the majestic task which lays so near his heart, the erection and equipment of the American University.

In view of the fact that we have enjoyed here one of the most delightful and profitable sessions in the history of the Conference, we desire to record our hearty and grateful appreciation for the consideration and services of those who have made this memorable session possible.

We would therefore extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the pastor of this church for the rarely unique and successful way in which he has planned and managed this Conference; to the members of this church, together with the citizens of Ann Arbor, who have so cordially welcomed and so generously entertained us; to the railroad companies, who have granted us favors; to the hack and street car companies, for courtesies; to the State savings bank, for considerations given; to the University, for the organ concert and other benefactions; to the choir of this church, for services rendered; to our faithful secretary, for the prompt and efficient discharge of onerous duties; to the press, local and general, for their attentions to our deliberations; to the janitor, for his faithfulness; to the Presbyterian and Baptist churches, for the use of their buildings; to the directors of McMillan Hall, for its free and liberal use; to Hobart Guild, for the generous proffer and use of Harris Hall; all of which courtesies are warmly appreciated and will be kindly remembered.—P. Ross PARRISH, J. M. SHANK.

THE REGISTER.

NOTE.—This Register has been completely revised since the close of the Conference. A few blanks still remain. Will the parties interested send needed data at once. If you find any errors please send corrections.

‘Div.’ in the sixth column, indicates that such members fell into the Detroit Conference by the division of 1856.

All who joined the Detroit Conference in full connection had at least two years of prior service as preachers on probation. Those who joined other Conferences may have done very many years of service before coming here.

The fifth column shows time of admission to full membership, not of reception on trial.

RULES OF ORDER

As Adopted in 1869, Modified in 1875, and Adopted at Each Session Since.

1. The Conference shall meet at 8½ o'clock A. M., and adjourn at 12 M., but may alter the time of meeting and adjourn at its discretion.
2. The President shall take the chair precisely at the time to which the Conference stood adjourned. The first half hour of the session shall be devoted to religious services, and thereafter the journals of the preceding day shall be read and approved.
3. The President shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Conference; but, in case of an appeal, the question shall be taken without debate.
4. He shall appoint all committees not otherwise specially ordered by the Conference, but any member may decline serving on more than one committee at the same time.
5. All motions and resolutions introduced by any member shall be reduced to writing, if the President, Secretary, or any member of the Conference requests it.
6. When a motion, resolution or report presented, is read by the Secretary, or stated by the President, it shall be deemed in possession of the Conference, but any motion or resolution may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before action or amendment.
7. No new motion or resolution shall be made before the one under consideration has been disposed of, which may be done by adoption or rejection, unless one of the following should intervene, which motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are placed, viz: Indefinite postponement, lying on the table, reference to a committee, postponement to any given time or amendment.
8. No member shall be interrupted when speaking, except by the President, to call him to order when he departs from the question, uses personalities, or disrespectful language; but any member may call the attention of the President to the subject when he deems the speaker out of order, or any other member may explain when he thinks himself misrepresented.
9. When any member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the Conference, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to the President.
10. No person shall speak more than twice on the same subject, or more than fifteen minutes at one time, without leave of the Conference; nor shall any person speak more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.
11. When any motion or resolution shall have passed, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing side to move a reconsideration.
12. No member shall absent himself from the services of Conference without leave, unless he is sick or unable to attend.
13. No member shall be allowed to vote on any question who is not within the bar of the Conference at the time such question is put by the President, except by leave of Conference, when such member has been necessarily absent.
14. Every member who shall be within the bar at the time the question is put shall give his vote, unless the Conference, for special reasons, excuse him.
15. No motion shall be considered unless seconded.
16. The Secretary shall keep a journal of the proceedings of the Conference, and, when approved, shall record them in a book provided for that purpose. He shall take charge of the journal and other papers of the Conference, and preserve them with care; suffer no person to take a copy of any paper during the interval of Conference, except with the consent of the Conference; and shall forward the journal and papers to the next Annual Conference.
17. A motion to adjourn shall be in order at any time, and shall be decided without debate.
18. No preacher shall bring any charge against any member of this Conference until he has first given him information of the same, either by letter or otherwise, ten days in advance, if practicable, so that the accused may have an opportunity for defense.
19. When any brother intends to object to the passage of another's character, it shall be his duty to hand the name of the person against whom objections are to be made to the President of the Conference.
20. Two-thirds of the members present, and voting, may order the previous question on a pending motion.
[A motion to table an amendment to a resolution does not carry the resolution to the table.]

4. Presentation and election of delegates to General Conference.

We also recommend that the temporary offices be made permanent.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions was as follows:

Resolved, That we are opposed to the removal of, or any change in, the matter of time limit, unless submitted to and approved by a two-thirds vote of our entire membership.

Resolved, That we believe it would be unwise to increase the present number of bishops.

Resolved, That we would favor some provision whereby each presiding elder's district shall have one lay delegate, who, with the elder, shall represent the district in the annual Conference cabinet meetings.

Resolved, That we believe in, and ask for, equal ministerial and lay representation in the General Conference.

Resolved, That we believe in the total suppression of the liquor traffic, and would most heartily recommend legislation to that end.

Resolved, That we are opposed to any changes in the prohibitory rules, and commend our young people for the firm stand that they have taken with regard to the amusement question, as expressed at the various Epworth League conventions.

Resolved, That we condemn any system of distribution of funds derived from collections, or from profits of book concerns or local papers, among superannuated preachers, upon the principle of a service pension, and insist that all funds for the relief of superannuated preachers ought to be distributed according to the necessities of each recipient.

Resolved, That we instruct our delegates to General Conference to vote for the admission of women.
